Master of Divinity

Course of Study

The Master of Divinity prepares persons for more effective full-time ministry as pastors, evangelists, professors, missionaries, or other ministries. This program enables the integration of a comprehensive understanding of the Bible with the creative practice of ministry. The M.Div. is a 90 unit program beyond the bachelors, including a thesis. This program requires the completion of the equivalent of a 36 credit Master of Theological Studies degree, plus 36 credits from the additional courses (listed), and an 18 credit thesis:

Goals

- To provide advanced knowledge and understanding of the Bible and theology necessary for effective communication.
- To provide knowledge and skills for the teaching of the Bible, theology, and practical ministry at the collegiate and institutional level.
- To provide academic and professional training required for the various institutional chaplaincies.
